

Teachers return at Madison

Madison school teachers who earlier had rejected a revised proposal for a new working agreement, reversed their decision Wednesday afternoon and returned to their teaching posts on the first day of school this morning.

An agreement that will increase teachers salaries and increments by an average of 17 percent, was accepted by the teachers in a meeting at the middle school in Madison Wednesday afternoon.

That action followed announcements that the proposal had been rejected in a Tuesday teachers meeting and that teachers did not plan to resume their posts for the fall term until a new working agreement was resolved. Following the teachers decision to accept the last offer given them by Superintendent John Falchett Monday, five members of the Board of Education met with Falchett and announced they would ratify the offer Falchett had made to the teachers. In a special meeting Tuesday night, board members did not give approval to the increased offer.

According to Falchett the new agreement raises the starting salary of a beginning teacher from $11,000 to $12,500 with a maximum of $19,000 over 14 years of the pay schedule.

For teachers with master degrees the starting salary becomes $15,300, up from $11,850, with a maximum of $20,850. Teachers with master degrees plus 30 hours of graduate work, will have a starting salary of $14,200, up from $12,700, and a maximum of $22,000.

Madison teachers today were attending an orientation session and will open their classes Friday.

Students will attend a half-day session Friday and will begin full-time class sessions on Monday.

The decision not to return to their teaching posts until an acceptable working agreement is resolved was reached by the teachers in a meeting at the middle school Tuesday afternoon in which they voted to reject a new proposal submitted by Superintendent Falchett in a negotiating session Monday.

The negotiation session on Monday was the first meeting in a month between the teachers and Falchett as the principal negotiator for the Madison School District.

In that session, Falchett submitted a revised proposal in which he and the Arrest three in rape cases

Three Quad-City area men are in the Madison County Jail in connection with two separate incidents in which three women were raped. Police said two other men still are being sought in connection with one of the incidents.

Terry Gargac, 30, of 2714 Nameoki Road, and Robert Dean Mathias, 26, of 1749 Spruce St., are being held in lieu of $100,000 bond each in connection with the abduction of two 18-year-old Pennsylvania women from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville station morning. The young women alleged they were raped in Mathias' automobile in Mitchell and later were taken to Gargac's apartment, where they were raped again, authorities contend.

Jaffee Z. Woolfork, 21, Brooklyn formerly of Eagle Park Acres, is being held in lieu of $200,000 bond on charges of kidnapping and unlawful restraint in connection with the abduction of a 24-year-old woman from a service station parking lot at 20th Street and Madison Avenue July 17.

Police allege Woolfork drove the automobile during that abduction, but did not participate when two of his friends raped the woman in the car.

The victims of this weekend's abduction and rapes told investigators that they attended a concert by the Grateful Dead at the Mississippi River Festival Saturday night and then went to a party near Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

They left the party about 12:30 a.m. Sunday and were walking when a car stopped at University Drive and Route 107 and the two young men in the car offered them a ride to Interstate 270.

The victims accepted the ride, but the men did not allow them out of the car when they were near I-270.

Instead, the women were driven to Cemetery Road near Old Poag Road, east of Mitchell, where both were raped several times in the auto, according to official reports. The women said they were driven to the 2700 block of Nameoki Road where they were taken into an apartment, allegedly Gargac's, and were raped and forced to commit other sexual acts, authorities said.

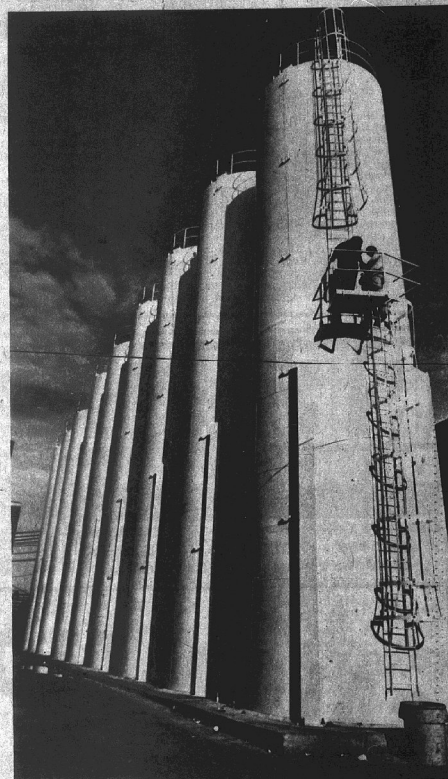

About 5:30 a.m. Sunday, after five hours of captivity, the women were driven to Interstate 270 and were released near the first emergency telephone east of Route 111, they related.

They used the phone to call state police and an ambulance and were taken to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryville, where they were treated and released.

They then went to the Rape Crisis Center at Southern Illinois University for counseling and both agreed to give full cooperation to investigators.

According to William Barrett, supervisor of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI), the full cooperation of the victims, teamed with a nearly "around-the-clock" investigation by DCI Agents Dennis Kuba and Dave Walker and Granite City Detective Sgt. Donald Knight, resulted in "a little luck," which led to the apprehensions of Gargac and Mathias.

City offices moved to township building

By GARY SCHNEIDER

of the Press-Record

If you want a building permit from Granite City next week, you might have to search for the Building and Zoning Department.

That is among the departments involved in a relocation now taking place, despite objections from some aldermen.

On instructions by Mayor Paul Schuler, the city's engineering and building inspection departments will move next week from the street department building at 2301 Adams St.

to the township building on Delmar Avenue at 21st Street, space formerly occupied by the office of Granite City Township Tax Assessor Von Dee Cruse. Cruse's office moved last year into the basement of city hall after the police department moved from there into the city's new police building in the 2300 block of Madison Avenue.

Among those involved in the latest move are City Engineer Monroe Brewer; Traffic Engineer Ed Schulze and others in the engineering department; Inspection Department Secretary Bill Dallas Jr. and possibly an assistant; City Building Inspector Tony Rusick; Heating Inspector Chuck Morrie; Plumbing and Sewer Inspector William "Bud" Early, and Electrical Inspector Ed Branding.

The aldermen were informed of the move in a letter from Mayor Paul Schuler which they received just in advance of Tuesday night's city council meeting. Some were not thrilled.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey, chairman of the council's buildings committee, said he has been attempting to find some business willing to rent the vacant quarters in the township building "to bring some money into the city."

He added, "I wonder why I'm chairman of the buildings committee and trying to get the building rented and I'm not told about this change. All of a sudden, behind my back, they are moving people in there."

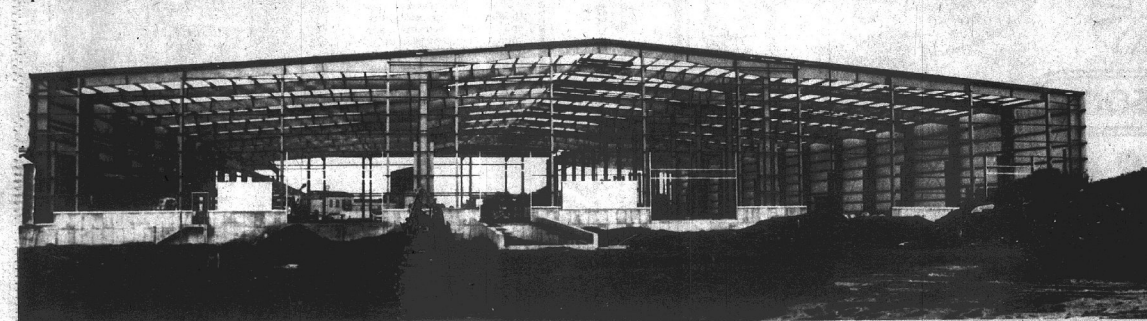

Schuler said the move was made because the street department building has been overcrowded for some time and that he has discussed "some problems and ways to solve them" with eight to 10 of the aldermen at various times.

Housed in that building, besides the street department, are the planning and zoning, city inspectors, building inspectors, city engineers, air pollution control, the sanitation department and manpower.

The mayor said the move will be considered temporary and will be evaluated in about six months, "to see if it works out." He also said the decision was "an administrative change I have discussed with most of the aldermen."

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward said the move, "kind of" (Continued on Page 10)

Gerald Marley Davis II, 19, of 2135 Bryan Ave., was fatally injured when his motorcycle left the roadway on West California Street near Alice Street in Collinsville about 4:40 a.m. Tuesday and threw Mr. Davis into a culvert.

He was found by his fiancée after the accident and was taken by ambulance to Oliver C. Anderson Memorial Hospital in Maryville where he died at 7:25 a.m. Tuesday.

Mr. Davis, a graduate of local schools, had been staying with his grandfather in Collinsville, since moving back from Vandallia, but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald (Bonnie) Davis reside in Granite City, where Gerald Davis was born.

It isn't urban life that has undermined family strength

By BARBARA LASLETT
(This is the second in a series of 15 articles exploring "American Families in Transition." Copyright (c) 1980 by the Regents of the University of California.)

Recent changes in the family have a curiously contradictory character. On the one hand, divorce has become increasingly common, but this trend has been accompanied by high rates of remarriage.

Violence within the family appears to be rising while, at the same time, counseling professions that attempt to resolve family problems have grown enormously.

More couples seem to reject altogether the idea of marriage and becoming parents, while others invest money and time in parent education and marriage counseling.

Family relationships, it would appear, are becoming stronger and disintegrating at the same time.

But how is this possible? One way that social scientists use to understand such apparent contradictions about the contemporary family is through historical comparison.

Until recently, comparisons about family life in the past and present were often based on what one sociologist called "the classical family of western nostalgia"—a happy picture of self-sufficient life down on Grandma's farm, with lots of respectful children and many kindfolk living together under a benevolent patriarch.

This picture, however, is more myth than reality. Our knowledge about the history of the family has changed markedly in the last 15 years, particularly through developments in the field of historical demography.

Demography, by studying fertility and mortality, is like the family—concerned with issues of life and death. It provides, therefore, a useful starting point for examining family life in the past and the present.

NUCLEAR FAMILIES. Despite the long-standing belief associated with a nostalgic view of the family in pre-industrial societies that many kindfolk lived together, the nuclear family—a group composed of parents and their children only—was the most common type of domestic unit.

Given the high mortality characteristic of these societies, the number of people that lived long enough to become grandparents and share a household with their married children and grandchildren was extremely limited.

The extended family households that did exist—those which included kin beyond the nuclear family—were likely to be among the rich, those with sufficient resources to support additional family members.

The family was predominantly nuclear in its kinship structure, but people unrelated to the family group were often members of pre-industrial and early industrial households.

Such persons included servants, boarders and lodgers, apprentices, employees, and other people's children who lived with their parents for educational purposes or because their parents had died.

In fact, the proportion of children raised in single parent families in, for instance, the 18th Century, may not have been very different from that proportion in the contemporary United States, although the reasons have changed; high mortality accounted for this pattern in the past, whereas divorce explained it in the present.

As a consequence of this high mortality, then, fewer parents and grandparents were available in the past than in the present to share in raising their children.

Today, in contrast, older relatives are not only numerous but technology—telephones, automobiles, airplanes—also makes them more available. Contact with kin is easier now than in earlier periods.

BIRTH RATES AND DEATH RATES. The high levels of mortality in earlier times did not affect the elderly alone.

Due to the contrary, infant mortality was a major reason for the high death rates reported in historical statistics.

Some scholars have suggested that there is a relationship between the high mortality and high fertility that characterized pre-industrial and early industrial societies.

Since little economic support for the elderly existed outside their families, children were often chosen over visiting with neighbors, friends or co-workers.

How, then, can we understand the contradictions about the contemporary family with which we began?

This brief historical comparison of family life indicates that there are few demographic reasons to believe that urbanization and industrialization have "weakened the bonds of kinship," as some social scientists have feared.

On the contrary, given the bureaucratized, impersonal character of public life, people may increasingly look to their families for more emotional solace and support than was true in earlier times.

But the increasing divorce rate, the greater awareness of child abuse and wife abuse, and even the growth of marriage counseling and family counseling suggest that the intense desire for positive family contact does not necessarily meet with much success.

This, perhaps, is the key to understanding the contradictions of modern family life: the family, alone, cannot satisfy the urgent demands confronting it today.

Perhaps, then, it is time to shift the way we think about family problems—a shift that focuses not only on demography or psychology, but also on the political and economic conditions of contemporary societies that shape the way families can satisfy the demands that are placed upon them.

Relations between husband and wife, between adult children and their parents, and between grandchildren and grandparents may well be at least as significant in family life today as ever was the case.

URBANIZATION AND MOBILITY. Two additional factors relevant to where people live may also contribute to the importance of family relationships in the contemporary world.

Rapid urbanization has been a feature of American growth since the early 19th Century, and the 20th has witnessed an increasing concentration of population into large metropolitan centers.

Kin, therefore, are more likely to be living in concentrated geographical areas, making fairly frequent contact among them easier to achieve (and harder to avoid) than may have been true in the past.

And although high rates of migration contribute to the movement of people throughout the country, research shows that migrants in the present as well as in the past, often choose their destination in part because of the presence of relatives in the new area.

Thus, migration, particularly under modern technological conditions, does not necessarily undermine family contact.

Many studies show that visiting with relatives is often chosen over visiting with neighbors, friends or co-workers.

Don't wait to help lawn

If summer has taken its toll on your lawn and you can hardly wait until spring to revive it, here's some advice. Don't wait.

Now is the best time to perk up a lawn, says Herb Portz, a turfgrass specialist in the SLUC School of Agriculture. The main ingredient in a successful lawn recipe is fertilizer, he adds.

"Fall fertilization of existing lawns is recommended for encouraging strong root growth and healthy plants," Portz said. "Spring fertilization, which is a common practice, is less likely to encourage root formation and, in effect, weakens the plant."

He recommends application between now and mid-September of one and one-half pounds each of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium per 1,000 square feet of lawn. The three nutrients usually are purchased mixed.

"To get the right amount of each nutrient, read the analysis on the fertilizer bag. Fertilizer labeled 10-10-10 contains 10 percent active ingredient of each of the three major ingredients."

"A 50-pound bag contains 10 pounds each of the nutrients known in the trade as N-P-K."

The analysis on the bag always refers to the three nutrients in the same order—nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium.

"Follow this first application of nitrogen alone; after the grass has stopped growing for the season, usually in early to middle November."

"The nitrogen should be applied at the rate of one and one-half pounds per 1,000 square feet. It can be applied in the form of ammonium nitrate. As in other fertilizers, it is not pure, but the label will tell you how much nitrogen is in the fertilizer."

"If you don't want to feed the weeds that have invaded your lawn this summer, there are some commonly available chemicals to knock them out."

"For crabgrass and other grassy weeds make two applications—10 days apart—of a chemical called MSMA or one called DSMA. That will help eliminate existing grasses. For more permanent control you will have to make an early spring application of a chemical called siduron to prevent new growth of crabgrass from seeds dispersed this summer. Siduron is marketed under the trade name Turscan."

"To conquer broadleaved weeds such as dandelions, use 2-4-D-Deqamba. It's best when applied during active growth of the weeds."

Study to determine need of 2nd lock

The Mississippi River will get some close scrutiny from Illinois Natural History Survey biologists and other scientists during the next two and one-half years in a research program to determine whether a second lock should be built at the new Alton Lock and Dam.

Drs. Kenneth S. Lubinski and H. H. Seagle of the Illinois Natural History Survey Aquatic Biology Section will supervise studies of the "Father of Waters" from the Survey's newest field laboratory at Grafton, Ill., where the Illinois and Mississippi Rivers flow together.

Appropriately located right on the riverfront, the laboratory's two buildings are leased from the Illinois Department of Conservation. When Congress agreed in 1976 to replace the old Alton Lock and Dam, it also gave the Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission (UMRBC) $12 million to learn the costs and benefits to the nation of adding a second lock.

Illinois' three scientific research agencies—the Natural History Survey, Water Survey, and Geological Survey—have contracted to use $10 of the $12 million over the next two and one-half years.

The surveys (divisions of the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources) will study what, if any, effects commercial barge traffic has on the upper Mississippi River's water quality, plants and animals, and habitats where they live in, on, under, and beside the river. The Illinois agencies will cooperate with five other agencies conducting a parallel research project near LaCrosse, Wis.

The Basin Commission will combine these environmental studies with other research on transportation, and by 1983 will come up with a "Master Management Plan" for the entire upper Mississippi River system. The 1978 law forbids any expansion of the navigation capacity of the upper Mississippi River until Congress approves this master plan.

"Researchers in the past have often been placed in the awkward position of coming along after a major construction project and pointing out the environmental problems it caused," said project coordinator Dr. Richard E. Sparks, aquatic biologist with the Illinois Natural History Survey. "The master plan research will allow us to contribute information before critical decisions are made, so that the Basin Commission and Congress can give environmental factors their proper weight from the start."

Substantial amounts of state and federal tax money already go to the government agencies responsible for the upper Mississippi River: the Fish and Wildlife Service maintains refuges for fish and wildlife; federal and state environmental protection agencies maintain and upgrade water quality; and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers develops structures for navigation and flood control. Do these agencies sometimes pull in opposite directions, perhaps without knowing it?

Pipeline-quality coal gas proposal

Illinois Governor James R. Thompson and Governor James A. Rhodes of Ohio have sent a telegram to U.S. Senator Robert C. Byrd urging favorable consideration by Byrd, appropriations subcommittee of continued funding for two coal gasification projects.

The projects, which are competing for funding, are the proposals by the Illinois Coal Gasification Group and by the Conoco Coal Development Company in Ohio.

"Both offer economically and environmentally attractive means of using our vast coal deposits. Thanks in major part to the subcommittee's foresight, Congress has provided the critical funding which has refined the Cogas and the lagging/Lurgi processes," the two governors told Sen. Byrd.

and certainly ample protection for the government's interest can be provided. Not to go forward with both projects might delay or jeopardize putting one of these pipeline-quality gas plants on line.

Illinois and Ohio miners are anxious to supply coal needs of the synfuel plants, and gas users stand to benefit from the projected rate savings.

"And lessons learned from the scale-up to demonstration size will permit the country to use more of this bountiful resource and thereby displace expensive foreign oil and natural gas."

"We believe that both the ICGG and Conoco proposals have already proven themselves to be sound designs, and we solicit the committee's support for construction funding."

MARINE PROMOTED

Misses Patricia W. Adler, son of William R. Adler of 4 Middlesex Circle, Granite City, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with the 3rd Force Service Support Group on Okinawa. A 1979 graduate of Granite City High School, he joined the Marine Corps in November 1979.

"Recent Congressional developments on the 1981 Department of Energy fossil fuel program are most encouraging. The July 30 passage of the Senate authorization bill and of the House appropriation bill have brought us that much closer to the reality of going forward with both the ICGG and Conoco plants."

"The Ohio and Illinois projects are ready for demonstration testing while other sophisticated gas processes are significantly behind them in engineering and design."

"As good as the Conoco and the ICGG technologies are in using different coals, both are needed to process all varieties of American coals."

"The competition for next-stage funding needs to be ended. More than sufficient information should now be available to DOE evaluators."

John 4:24 ... "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth."

God is a Spirit. Our knowledge of God is in many ways limited. His ways are far above our ways and are past finding out. Many things we do not understand and cannot explain. However, we have one of the necessary keys of understanding when we know that God is a Spirit.

We do not see Spirits. Nor do we touch Spirits. The natural man does not comprehend spiritual things. If we are to worship God, then we must do so in Spirit and in truth.

We must be BORN AGAIN in Christ. A new birth. A new creation in Christ. Born of the Spirit. Now we can worship in Spirit and in truth.

We can. Today.

481 pupils in Venice schools

Venice High School anticipates an enrollment of 181 students for 1980-81, an increase of 12 over last year, and grade school pupils are expected to number 350, one student more than in 1979-80, Venice Principal John C. Rush announced this week. School opens Monday, Aug. 25, for the teachers in the Venice Public Schools, with students attending a half-day session on Tuesday, Aug. 26, Rush said. Teachers will spend Monday in an all-day workshop, with registration, coffee and donuts at 8:30 a.m., followed by a session and introductions by Robert N. Vickers, Venice superintendent of schools.

Dr. Baden's session on "Minimal Competency" will be repeated at 11 a.m., Rush advised.

At the same time an alternate session will be presented by Pam Klein from the Rape and Sexual Abuse Clinic at SIUE. Her topic is entitled "Rape and Sexual Abuse—What Teachers Should Know."

The teachers will attend inservice training sessions in their respective buildings with district administrators following a lunch break.

All Venice students will attend the half-day session Tuesday, Aug. 26, although the reporting times are staggered for different grade levels, Principal Rush said.

High school students will report to the cafeteria at 9 a.m. Tuesday for orientation, followed with 30-minute class sessions. These studies will be dismissed at 12:15 p.m.

Grade 8 students will report to their respective homerooms at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Pupils in grades 4 through 7 are to report at 9:30 a.m., and kindergarten through 3rd grade students will report at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday.

School buses will follow their regular routes and pick up children 30 minutes prior to the time students are to report, Rush said.

The dismissal schedule on Tuesday will be: Grades K-3 at 11:30 a.m., Grades 4-7, 11:50 a.m. and Grades 8-12 at 12:15 p.m.

Supt. Vickers will address the teachers at a district-wide faculty meeting at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday in the gymnasium.

There will be no cafeteria service at the Venice schools until Wednesday, Aug. 27, when pupils attend their first full day of school.

RECYCLING FOR FREE DUQUIN ADMISSION
Fun seekers can gain free admission to the DuQuin State Fair — and help in the fight against Muscular Dystrophy — by bringing 24 empty aluminum beverage cans to the fairgrounds from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 24, as part of Recycling Day.

The $1.50 admission fee for the fair will be waived for anyone who brings in at least 24 empty aluminum beverage containers. The Muscular Dystrophy Association will receive two cents for every 24 cans brought in during the day.

Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to or including the December 13, 1980 administration for the ACT and the December 6, 1980 administration for the SAT.

The competition for appointment as cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, performance on either the SAT or ACT, and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment.

Girl Scout booklet on badges and signs

Girl Scouts will be wearing new badges this year, bright symbols that they are developing skills that weren't even imagined when Girl Scouting was just beginning.

The badges — and how they may be earned — are being introduced to Girl Scouts in a million-copy first printing of the new book, Girl Scout Badges and Signs.

The book is significant in the Girl Scout movement since it represents the first major revision of the badge and recognition system in nearly 30 years. All of the badges are new. Some of them relate to subjects like camping and cooking that have always been a part of Girl Scouting. Many others reflect new interests — among them badges identified as "Aerospacely," "Business-Wise," "Computer Fun," and "Math Whiz."

Girl Scout Badges and Signs outlines the requirements for earning 70 action-oriented badges. It includes hundreds of suggested activities from which a girl may choose when earning badges. They provide flexibility and the opportunity for skill development based on each individual girl's interests and resources.

The badges are grouped according to Girl Scouting's five interest areas or "worlds." They are Well Being, People, Today and Tomorrow, The Arts, and The Out of Doors.

To help girls grow in the traditions of Girl Scouting, the book introduces three new signs — Sign of the Rainbow, Sign of the Sun, and Sign of the Satellite. In fulfilling the requirements for a sign, the pre-teen Girl Scout develops the skills and learns about Girl Guiding and Girl Scouting in other countries, community service, and careers, and can develop her leadership qualities.

Designed as a major program resource for the nearly one million Junior Girl Scouts, the board also helps a girl prepare for Cadette Girl Scouting with a special section on earning the "Bridge to Cadettes" patch. Brownie Girl Scouts doing bridging activities earn the "dabbler" badge. Cadette Girl Scouts may earn tan badges.

Girl Scout Badges and Signs is available through Girl Scout councils and Girl Scout equipment agencies, or by writing National Equipment Service at Girl Scout National Headquarters, 830 Third Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. The book's cost is $2.50.

Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried at the time of appointment, have no legal obligations resulting from a prior marriage, and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1981. All applicants must be assured of high graduation by June 30, 1981.

Applicants must have completed three units in English and three in mathematics to include algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and fulfill basic physical and moral requirements.

Racing board member named
Governor James R. Thompson has announced the appointment of Farrel J. Griffin, Chicago, as a member of the Illinois Racing Board.

Griffin, 37, will succeed Tyrone C. Fahner on the board. Fahner was named Illinois Attorney General by Thompson on July 29.

A partner in the Chicago law firm of Pierce, Webb, Lydon and Griffin, he has been a member of the Chicago Board of Trade since 1974.

He joined the Office of the United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois in 1970 and became Deputy Chief of the Criminal Division. From 1967 to 1969, Griffin served in Vietnam with the United States Army, as a Captain.

He received his bachelor's degree from Georgetown University in 1964 and Doctor of Law Degree from that institution in 1967.

As a board member, Griffin will receive $150 per diem for meetings. He is appointed for a term ending in July 1986. The position requires Senate confirmation.

Dealing with a disobedient child

By SUE BORSTEIN Coordinator of Community Education
Mental Health Services of Southern
Madison County

"My child just won't mind me. I have to tell him over and over to do something." This is a complaint many parents have about their children. The solution is a five-step process.

First, make sure what you're asking the child to do is reasonable. Determine if it is something he is capable of doing.

Second, make sure the child understands what you are asking. It is best to ask in concrete terms, in language he can understand.

Third, make sure you praise him by word touch or some other form of recognition when he has completed what you have asked. Do this as soon as possible upon completion of the task.

Fourth, make sure he completes the task when you first ask. If you wait until the fourth or fifth time to get serious about what you're asking, many children will also wait, making you more frustrated and resulting in unnecessary anger and punishment.

Fifth, and perhaps, most important, be consistent. Don't use one method one time and another the second time and still another the third. This would confuse the child, making it difficult for him to understand what you want.

Many parents say, "I've tried everything and nothing works." It is usually the case that no one method has been tried consistently over a sufficient period of time.

Be aware that when changes are made in your approach to a child, the problem often gets worse before it gets better. This is when patience and consistency become most important.

Sometimes, it may be necessary to consult with a social worker, psychologist or other mental health professional skilled in working with children to make the necessary changes in your approach.

These professionals are ready and willing to help you in the process of communication with your child. They can offer new ways and methods to give consistent directions, ensure completion of tasks and voice concrete praise for success.

For more information on this subject, readers may contact the coordinator of community education in Granite City (877-4420), Edwardsville (656-8724) or the Highland area (654-7232).

Social security offices to issue some food stamps

Starting this month, many people who receive supplemental security income (SSI) payments can apply for SSI at the East St. Louis or Belleville Social Security Offices can also apply for food stamps.

To be eligible to apply for food stamps at a social security office, a person must live in a household where all residents receive SSI benefits or are applying for them. People not eligible to apply for food stamps at social security offices can apply for them at the local Department of Public Aid. Once a person applies for food stamps, he or she should receive them within 30 days.

People who need food stamps sooner can ask for expedited service or they can apply directly at the local Department of Public Aid.

No food stamp records will be kept at the social security office, so people with questions about the program should call the local food stamp office.

More information about who can apply for food stamps at the East St. Louis and Belleville Social Security Offices can be obtained by calling 274-4100 or toll free by dialing the Enterprise 1-555.

Cut work schedule at Venice Lincoln-Tech

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

To help eliminate a $40,000 funding deficit in the next fiscal year, such as experienced during the past 12 months of operation at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, the number of work months in 1980-81 will be reduced for 14 certificated faculty members at the adult education school, it was decided at Monday night's meeting of the Venice Board of Education.

Seven certificated staff members will continue to work 11 months in the 1980-81 operating year, the normal work schedule for the adult center until this time.

Nine persons will be employed for a nine-month period and five certificated faculty members will work a 10-month schedule.

Duane Rankin, administrator of Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, recommended the revised work schedules to the board, citing the need to reduce possible future deficits in the school's operations.

State and federal public education agencies responsible for the center's financing have agreed to clear the 1979-80 deficit, Rankin said.

"But, we have to make sure that this doesn't happen again," he told the board.

No immediate action was taken by Venice district officials on a recommendation by Rankin that reductions also should be effected in the work schedules of non-certificated personnel at Venice-Lincoln.

Employees in this category, who are members of Building Services Local 98, are employed on a 12-month schedule and work eight hours per day, five days a week.

In other business: Board members authorized the purchase or lease of three electric typewriters from IBM Corp., St. Louis, allowing school district personnel to bid for three older models which the new machines will replace.

Accepted the low bid of Dan Distributing Co. of Granite City to supply bread to the district for the 1980-81 school year; and also approved the low bid of $6,312 from American Boiler Co. of St. Louis to make repairs to the boiler which serves the Venice Grade and High School buildings.

Arrest man on Nameoki Road

Fred A. Elmore, 25, of 2317 Nameoki Road, allegedly creating a disturbance while standing with a friend in the median on Nameoki Road, between Lincoln Avenue and East 23rd Street, was told by an officer to quieten down and go home at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday.

As the squad car pulled away, Elmore allegedly began yelling and screaming and was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. A second man at the scene was not charged.

Elmore was taken from police headquarters to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 12:50 a.m. Tuesday. He was returned to jail at 2:05 a.m. and released on payment of a $35 cash bond at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The contract award is one in a series of bidding proposals called by the city in connection with installation of a cable television and burglar alarm system in Madison.

The council also received notice of the change of name of the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab engineering firm to Juneau and Associates.

$250,000 LAWSUIT

A $250,000 lawsuit has been filed in the Madison County Circuit Court against Avivi Heiman, doctor of medicine in Granite City, by Neilson E. Sanders citing the Sept. 26, 1979, death of Neilson Sanders Jr., a minor, who is said to have undergone right ear surgery here Aug. 15, 1979, a mastoidectomy and tympanoplasty operation. New school policy set for prices on milk, meals

Quad-City area schools have announced their policy for free milk and free meals or reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast and Special Milk Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family of one, maximum family income for free meals and free milk, $5,230 and maximum income for reduced price meals, $8,190;

Family of two, free meals and free milk $6,900, reduced price meals $10,760; family of three, $8,580 and $13,380; family of four, $10,250 and $15,590; five, $11,930 and $17,600; six, $13,600 and $19,610; seven, $15,280 and $21,620; eight, $16,950 and $23,640. For each additional family member, add $1,680 and $2,610.

The policy applies to Granite City School District 9, Madison School District 12 and Venice School District 3, parochial schools St. Elizabeth, St. Margaret Mary, Sacred Heart-St. Joseph and St. Mary.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free milk and free meals or reduced price meals.

In addition, families that do not meet these criteria but have expenses such as unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct. An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for free milk and free or reduced price meals for them, the family should contact the school. If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his or her race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, the building principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he or she may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he or she wishes to make a formal appeal, he or she may make a request either orally or in writing to the superintendent for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Each school and the office of the superintendent has a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Design completed for 5-mile Interstate link

Approval of the design for extension of Interstate 255 from Interstate 55-70 west of Collinsville to Interstate 270 southwest of Edwardsville in Madison County has been requested from the Federal Highway Administration.

The project involves construction of 5.5 miles of a fully controlled-access highway. The facility will consist of two 36-foot roadways separated by a 64-foot earth median.

Based on analysis of two alternate alignments as presented at design public hearing held on Aug. 25, 1979, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, alternate A-B (westernmost alignment) has been selected and recommended to the FHWA.

The proposed SIUE connection has been directed in favor of reconstruction of ramps in the west quadrants of the existing Route 157-270 interchange.

An additional lane will be added to both the east and eastbound roadway of 270 on the median side from Illinois Route 131 to Illinois Route 157 to handle the expected increase in traffic.

The project will also include necessary grading, paving, bridges and other structure, lighting, signing and landscaping.

Grade-separated interchanges will be provided at County Highway 35 (Collinsville-Granite City Road), Illinois Route 162 and I-270.

A grade-separation structure will carry Black Lane over I-255. The existing bridge over I-270 at Sand Road will remain.

Major stream crossings will be provided over Schoolhouse Branch and the Cashed Canal.

Construction will require acquisition of 488 acres of right-of-way and a displacement of five residences and one business.

Black Lane north of 35 will be closed at the east interchange ramps, and an existing frontage road south of I-270 also will be closed, with access maintained via a Chain of Rocks Road and Sand Road.

Service drives and frontage roads will be constructed where necessary to provide access to several properties.

Maps, sketches and other information on the design are available for public inspection at the Illinois Highway Division District 4, offices of the 420 W. Main St., Belleville. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, except state holidays.

Tighter rules on dangerous drugs

Licensed health-care practitioners who dispense more dangerous drugs must comply with a new Illinois law that requires periodic notification to the Department of Registration and Education by means of filling out triplicate prescription blanks.

Practitioners who administer such drugs, or who dispense or administer barbiturates, must list such actions in a separate record. A public hearing on the new rules was held Wednesday in the department's offices in Chicago.

Interested persons — both those who attended and those who did not attend the hearing — may submit written comments and points of view to the Department at 85 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago 60604. The deadline is Sept. 8.

Specifically up for discussion are proposed rules being promulgated for the administration of a new provision in the Illinois Controlled Substance (Dangerous Drugs) Act.

Newly named Acting Department Director Gary L. Clayton said the rules are stringent to "set out the record-keeping requirements for dispensing and administering controlled substances."

Formerly, before the new law, licensed practitioners had to use state triplicate prescription blanks only when they prescribed certain controlled substances — known as designated products — for their patients.

Now, they must do it, too, when they dispense them, as well as when they hand over a supply of such medication to those they are treating.

Under the Controlled Substance Act, those who can dispense Schedule II drugs, to which the new provision applies, are medical doctors, dentists, podiatrists and veterinarians.

Illinois law provides that a drug be included under Schedule II if:

— The substance has high potential for abuse;

— The substance has currently-accepted medical use in treatment in the United States, or currently-accepted medical use with severe restrictions; and — Abuse of the substance may lead to severe psychological or physiological dependence.

Schedule II designated products dispensed, but not administered, by a practitioner must be recorded on an official triplicate prescription blank, the rules state, and a legible duplicate blank is to be sent to the department by the 15th of the month following the month in which the drug was dispensed.

The original of the prescription blank must be retained by the practitioner for two years "and kept separately from prescription blanks recording actual prescriptions."

Schedule II products administered by a practitioner are to be recorded on a separate document — the Patient Controlled Substance Record.

Information on it must include the name of the substance, a description of the finished form, the date and amount dispensed or administered to each patient, the name of the patient and the identity of the individual dispensing or administering. If the practitioner did not do it,

Non-designated products in Schedule II (barbiturates) dispensed by a practitioner must be recorded, too, on the Patient Controlled Substance Record.

So also will scheduled substances with lesser potential for abuse dispensed by a practitioner. However, a practitioner may administer them without such recordation.

All Patient Controlled Substance Records, regardless of the drugs involved, must be maintained in the same place and arranged alphabetically by patients' last names.

In addition, the new provision of the law says a practitioner shall not issue a pre-printed prescription for any controlled substance. And a pharmacist can not fill such a pre-printed prescription.

Genealogical society to meet

The Madison County Genealogical Society will hold its next meeting on Thursday, Aug. 28, at 7 p.m., at the First Federal Savings and Loan Building, 100 St. Louis St., Edwardsville.

The Madison County Genealogical Society is a recently formed organization whose purpose is to help individuals in their search for family history. Anyone with an interest in this research is invited to attend. Meetings are open to the public, and are regularly scheduled for the third Thursday of each month.

New plan for nursing course

To accommodate registered nurses who want to earn a bachelor of science in nursing degree but who must schedule their studies around their work, the School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has developed a new curriculum plan.

According to Lois M. Cady, assistant professor of nursing, the plan allows a great deal of flexibility in scheduling courses around working hours by offering classes both during the day and evening hours.

Classes for Professional Nursing Processes I (NURS 211-2) will meet on Mondays from 8 until 8 p.m. Students successfully completing the course will earn two quarter hours of academic credit.

Looking at the profession from a historical perspective, Professional Nursing Processes I (NURS 211-2) considers the nursing processes as a contemporary framework for providing professional care to individuals. The phases of assessment, including diagnosis and planning, are emphasized.

Classes for Interpersonal Relations I (NURS 221-2) will meet on Mondays from 8 until 10 p.m. Students successfully completing the course will also earn two quarter hours of academic credit.

This course will study the role and role behaviors as they influence or determine the individual's self-concept, the effect of role perceptions and expectations on nursing practice and the communication necessary for establishing and maintaining intra- and interpersonal relationships.

All registered nurses are eligible to enroll in these nursing classes. Pre-registration forms are available in the office of the School of Nursing and should be completed by Sept. 5. Additional information may be obtained by telephoning (618) 692-3956.

Arrest two on motorcycles

Robert J. Sharp, 27, of 201 Terminal Ave., was charged with obstructing justice and driving while his license is suspended after an officer chased Sharp and another man riding motorcycles from Nameoki Road and Palmer Avenue, along Victory Drive to the Terminal Avenue address for alleged traffic violations at 2:15 a.m. Tuesday.

Jimmy D. Marrs, 34, of Phoenix, Ariz., the second motorcyclist, was charged with not having a muffler on his machine.

At the residence, Sharp allegedly became abusive with the officer and went into the dwelling. A Doberman Pinscher dog was inside the fenced yard surrounding the house and additional officers were called to the scene.

A family member eventually convinced Sharp to accompany the officers to avoid further problems, but at police headquarters the man reportedly became abusive again and was placed in a cell.

Marrs was released on payment of $35 cash bond to appear by Sept. 26.

Collectors urge tax bills be paid locally

Collection of 1979 tax bills was under way in all four townships of the Quad-City area this week as township collectors urged that taxpayers pay their bills locally so an early distribution of tax funds can be made.

Town collectors of Granite City, Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau Townships are charged with collection of $14.8 million in real estate taxes for the 1979 tax year.

Nick Petrillo, Granite City treasurer and town collector for the township, urged taxpayers to make their checks payable to the Granite City Town Collector and to pay their bills locally at local banks, or by mail or in person at his office in the city hall.

Petrillo and Jerry Maeras, town collector of Venice Township, voiced objections to a test program this year by County Treasurer Michael "Nick" Henkhaus in which Henkhaus has asked Granite City and Venice taxpayers to mail their payments directly to the county treasurer's office.

Since the tax bills are mailed by the county treasurer, the office included addressed return envelopes in which the taxpayers were asked to send their payments to the county.

Petrillo and Maeras, whose two townships were included in the test program, said local payments are important so that they may make early distributions to taxing agencies, all of which are in need of tax funds because the collections already are two months later than usual.

Normal, tax collectors begin in June. Maeras is collecting taxes at 422 Madison Ave., where property owners also may be made at the Granite City (Trust) Bank during regular business hours.

Cletus Bedwell, town collector of Chouteau Township, is receiving tax payments by mail or in person at his home, 800 Missouri Ave., S. Roxana, 62087, or by mail to Post Office Box 282, S. Roxana.

Good seedbed, soil test needed for establishment of new pasture

By RON CORNWELL, Farm Extension Adviser
Between Sept. 1 and Sept. 15 is the best time to establish a new pasture in the Madison County area.

The first step in pasture establishment is to prepare a good seedbed.

Take a soil test to determine the amount of fertilizer and limestone needed to bring the field up to test. The ideal pH for growing alfalfa and other legumes is 6.5 to 7.0. A grass pasture should have a pH between 6.0 and 6.5. Phosphorus and potash needs can be determined from a soil test.

Apply needed phosphorus, potash and limestone during the tillage process so that they can be thoroughly mixed with the soil. Phosphorus is especially important for seedling establishment.

Plant the seed of adapted varieties of high yielding legumes and grasses recommended for this area. A firm seedbed is essential for successful establishment of a pasture. It is important to have good seed-soil contact to obtain a good stand.

If the fertility level of the field being seeded is inadequate, the method of seedbed is not that important. Broadcast seedings are as successful and high yielding as band seedings. It is important to use a firm seed-soil contact to obtain a good stand.

There are several different pasture mixes that can be used. Alfalfa and orchard grass or alfalfa and Tall Fescue are commonly used mixtures. Legume grass mixtures not using alfalfa might be Red Clover, Ladino Clover and Tall Fescue.

To obtain additional information on pasture establishment, we have a Agronomy Handbook available at the Extension office in Edwardsville. The publication sells for $1.00. The Agronomy Handbook covers various seed mixtures for either permanent pasture or a hay crop. The book also recommends a per acre seeding rate for each mixture.

Have you ever stopped to think about how dangerous that grain bin is on your farm? Most Madison County farmers never given it a second thought. With fall harvest season near, now is the time to start thinking about grain bin safety.

One of the greatest dangers in grain bins is the risk of accidental suffocation. Grain may bridge during bin unloading. The bridge must be broken to get grain flowing again. All too often, an unsuspecting farmer will enter the bin with the unloader running and sink very quickly into the flowing grain. It takes only seconds for an individual to become completely submerged in the grain and suffocate.

Spoiled grain or grain in poor condition gives off large amounts of dust. This causes problems for people who suffer from allergies or asthma. Farmers unloading a bin should use a respirator if dust is a problem.

It is a good policy to never enter a grain bin with the unloading auger running. When you have to enter a bin, use a lifeline and have another person present. It is a good idea to install a ladder inside the grain bin to provide an emergency exit.

Every homeowner and farmer in Madison County should be aware of the fact that several hospitals in Madison County are designated as poison control centers.

Homeowners are using many chemicals around the home. The poisoning problem comes from the failure of the homeowner to store these chemicals out of the reach of children. There are some plants in the landscape that might cause a problem.

If you ever have a poisoning problem, contact one of the following poison control centers: Alton Memorial Hospital, St. Joseph Hospital in Highland or St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

The poison resource center for Southern Illinois is 800-232-2022. Post this number by your telephone.

Select clothing that is adaptable to growth

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK, County Extension Adviser
If you've ever purchased clothes for children, you know how quickly they grow out of them. Instead of buying clothing that is too large, look for features that adapt themselves to growth.

Clothing features that allow for some growth include:

- no defined waistline,
- deep-cut armholes for sleeves,
- raglan or kimono-type sleeves,
- two-piece garments,
- deep hems or cuffs,
- long tails on shirts and blouses,
- shoulder straps that can be adjusted in length,
- no tight cuffs or bands,
- some elasticized bands (elastic should usually not go all the way around the arm, leg, or waistline), and
- stretch or knit fabrics.

Clothing sizes are often confused with children's ages. The two are actually unrelated because children of the same age grow at such different rates. To find out the correct size for a child, his height and weight need to be taken. Sometimes, though, the child is growing so rapidly that the only way to be sure a garment fits is to have the child try it on.

Size standards are set up by the U.S. Department of Commerce. Even though most clothing manufacturers follow these standards, the right size for a child may vary for the same reasons as for an adult. Children, like adults, have different figure types, and sizes for both children's and adults' clothing varies with differences in style.

Special fund set up for Rowane family

A special fund has been set up at the First Granite City National Bank for the Joseph Rowane family, according to friends and neighbors residing in the 1900 block of Benton St.

Richard Buecker and Mrs. Betty Applegate, friends and neighbors of the family, are volunteer chairmen of a benefit ball scheduled for Friday, Aug. 22, at Croatian Home in Madison. All proceeds will be deposited in the bank to aid the family, the chairmen announce.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler will deliver the opening address.

Area residents who do not plan to attend the ball may send donations to the bank. Tickets for the dance will cost $5 per couple and may be purchased at the door Friday night. Refreshments will be available at a nominal cost, the chairmen noted.

Three bands are donating their time for the event and will include the Frisco Band of Jim Whitt and "Destiny" featuring the Buecker children, and a group known as "The Third Wind."

Mr. Rowane, who has seven school-age children at home, is on complete disability due to an accident sustained while working for a railroad and is unable to work.

A son, Dennis Jamison, 28, was a drowning victim at Carlyle Lake on Sunday, July 20, and the mother of Mr. Jamison and wife of Joseph Rowane, Mrs. Kathleen Rowane, 46, died the following Sunday, July 27, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

HOG CALLING 'CHAMP.' "I am proud to bring this honor back to Granite City, former Granite City alderman Frank Greenwald told the city council Tuesday night as he demonstrated the hog calling style which earned him the state championship during the annual Illinois State Fair at Springfield this month. Mayor Paul Schuler said the city is honored to have a state champion in Granite City and Alderman Sam Whitmer theorized, "Old aldermen never die, they just turn into old hog callers." Greenwald told the council, with his usual good sense of humor, about the national attention the championship has brought him and rash of radio personalities who have called him and asked him to "holer" in the phone for radio programs.

4 years for burning house

Thomas D. Farmer, 19, of the 2300 block of Hodges Ave., has been sentenced to four-year concurrent prison terms for arson and aggravated battery in the May 14 burning of a house at 2210 Illinois Ave.

Associate Judge John W. Day dismissed a charge of conspiracy to commit arson. Initial charges of aggravated arson were amended to the arson and aggravated battery counts. Farmer allegedly poured 10 gallons of gasoline throughout the residence and set fire to it, the resulting blaze destroying the structure and a neighboring house.

Rehabilitation order by judge

Circuit Judge Victor J. Moselle has assessed a $240 fine and ordered a two-year rehabilitation program for Rhonda K. Crouch, 17, of 2715 Buxton Ave.

She was charged by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois with delivering a controlled substance on Jan. 14.

Reports incident at Dunbar School

Orlando Woolfolk, 1906 Market St., Venice, was waxing his car on the playground at Dunbar School, Third and Jackson streets, when a man got out of a vehicle, struck him in the face, then stomped on him, he told Madison police at 5:40 a.m. Wednesday.

His assailant was driving a blue Buick and had a weapon, according to Woolfolk, who suffered abrasions to the right side of his face.

bothered me, too. It is probably in the best interest of the city, but where do you get the authority to make these changes without approval of the (city) council?"

Schuler noted, "We have a committee setup in this city. Each committee is charged with certain parts of the operation. It is physically impossible for each alderman to be aware of everything that is going on, that is why we have the committees. I have discussed this move with some committees and I sent out a letter to inform the rest of you."

Alderman Mike Modrusic of the Seventh Ward disagreed, contending, "There should have been a vote on it on the council floor."

Schuler then responded angrily, "In case you gentlemen are not aware of it, we have a mayor-council form of government. Only one is full-time, elected by the people to make the decisions for four years. He (the mayor) is elected to act with the consent of the council.

City offices moved

"It is up to me to administer and you control the purse strings," Schuler contended.

Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman said the disagreement over the move shows the need for a city public works department or board, to make recommendations in the area of facilities and usage. "Otherwise, the mayor has to handle it," Schuman commented.

Schuler said he feels "it is important that we try to make some adjustments. It seems to me that we have put it off for too long. The engineers asked for years for more space. They asked for the old police department space, but the council decided that Von Dee (Cruse) needed it more than they did."

Addressing Alderman Bailey, Schuler said, "If I slighted you, I apologize. You turned the building's rental over to Mr. Hagnauer (Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer) and I talked to Mr. Hagnauer two weeks ago about using the building."

Bailey disagreed, saying he did not turn the matter over to Hagnauer, but was still planning to advertise in the newspaper for businesses wanting to rent the space.

Those city employees who are to be moved into the township building have already begun moving their files and equipment, but will not physically move until probably next week, officials said.

Madison teachers

participate in negotiations for the new contract.

Meanwhile, Palchiff met in a special meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday night. He said he outlined what steps he had taken in offering a revised proposal to the teachers in talks Tuesday morning. According to Palchiff, the revised proposal increased the district's original offer of salary and benefit payments from an offer of 18 percent overall to an increase of 17.5 to 18 percent.

Palchiff noted that school board members expressed disapproval of an increased offer to the teachers, pointing out that they believed the 16 percent offer made originally "was a fair offer."

Palchiff said he conveyed the teachers' request for board member participation in the negotiations and that the board agreed to enter the negotiations, although board members indicated they could not arrange a meeting before Monday.

The teachers were requested Wednesday to return to their posts beginning with today's teachers' orientation meeting, while negotiations continue in an effort to reach an agreement.

Mrs. Davis told the Press-Record, however, that the teachers will not go back to work until a new working agreement was reached.

She said the teachers want a base salary of $12,600 compared to a present base of $11,000. The district's most recent offer is close to the request by teachers at the low end of the schedule but the spread is about $400 for those higher on the pay scale.

The teachers also have been critical of non-participation of board members in the negotiations which began last March. They said board members should participate to lend credence to offers made to the teachers "which then have to be taken back to the board for approval or rejection."

Higher lunch fees for Venice pupils

An increase in school lunch prices for students and adult personnel in the Venice School District was authorized at Monday night's meeting of the Venice Board of Education.

A $10,000 deficit in the cafeteria fund during the 1979-80 school year makes the price hike necessary, Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers told the board.

Lunch fees for students in the 8th through 12th grades will be 65 cents a day and adult personnel will be charged $1.15, an increase of 15 cents in both instances.

An increase of 10 cents will be added to last year's lunch prices charged 1st through 3rd grade pupils, who will now pay 50 cents a meal, and to 4th through 7th grade students, whose lunches will be 35 cents.

Considerable discussion ensued between board members prior to the new prices being authorized, with four voting for the raise and two against.

A recommendation made by Supt. Vickers proposed a five cent increase for meals served at the elementary level and a 10 cent raise in lunch costs for high school students and adults.

In approving the increases, the board suggested a state food services consultant be asked to provide assistance to Venice cafeteria personnel to help upgrade the quality of meals served in the school lunch program.

Another cost increase to the Venice district occupied the board's attention when it was learned Big 4 Chevrolet of Collinsville will charge

$2.50 a day for a Driver Education vehicle.

The auto dealership previously provided the Venice School District with a vehicle for instruction purposes without charge.

Based on a 30-day calendar month, cost to the district for the 1980-81 school year will be $675, payment of which was approved by the board.

It was noted that auto firm's furnishing Driver Education vehicles may charge up to $4 per day, with this cost being made retroactive to March 1980.

When interest rates are lowered, such savings will be passed along to the school district, the agency management advised the Venice board.

"He started with almost nothing and worked, until he developed his case," Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer said in congratulating Wilson.

Jaffee Woolfork was charged Monday with kidnapping and unlawful restraint on an informational document from the Madison County state's attorney's office.

The charges against the Brooklyn man relate to the abduction of a 24-year-old Granite City woman on July 17.

Woolfork was taken into custody Monday upon winning the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, where he was employed.

Bond was set at $200,000 cash or $200,000 property.

Two other men, who were passengers in the vehicle used in the kidnapping and allegedly raped the woman several times, still are being sought.

The victim was abducted as she crossed a service station lot at 20th Street and Madison Avenue.

She was walking home from a sister's home in the 800 block of State Street when an older model yellow car, possibly a Cadillac, containing three black men stopped near her and one man told her to get inside.

The woman started to run, she said, but one passenger got out, grabbed her and held a knife to her throat, ordering her to be quiet or he would kill her.

He forced her to lie down on the rear floorboard of the vehicle and he and another man sat in the rear seat. They covered her face with a baseball cap, she related.

One man used a knife to cut her blouse and shorts off and the two men in the rear seat raped her and forced her to commit other sex acts, she told officers.

After she had been raped several times, the men took her out of the car, dragged her into some tall weeds and ordered her not to look up or she would be killed. They then drove away.

The woman did not know where she was, but told police she could see the Gateway Arch in the distance, so she walked toward it.

As she passed a house, she took a dress from a clothesline and put it on, then she continued to walk, wandering across some railroad tracks.

The woman was found by an East St. Louis police officer, who summoned an ambulance and she was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis.

The attackers also stole $20 in cash from her purse, she told police.

Granite City and East St. Louis police are cooperating in the investigation which is continuing.

Bike thefts continue

The current trend in the number of bicycle thefts being reported in recent weeks is continuing, with two machines reported stolen about 12 noon Monday and two others at 4:30 p.m.

Glenn Wright Jr. of the 3400 block of Delmar Avenue reported the theft from his home of an orange and chrome Jaguar BMX bicycle valued at $150, at 12 noon Monday and a few minutes later Nancy Barnes, 2435 Edison Ave., said a boy's 26-inch yellow and chrome bicycle, worth $100, was taken from near her house.

At 4:30 p.m. Monday, Ann DeMaris, 2713 Buxton Ave., reported a 26-inch red and black All Pro boy's bicycle, a 10-speed model worth $150, was taken from the rear yard and the same type of report was given 15 minutes later by Mary Ann Murphy, 2034 Benton St., who said a yellow, 10-speed Sears bicycle was stolen from the rear yard at her home.

The woman started to run, she said, but one passenger got out, grabbed her and held a knife to her throat, ordering

K. of C. to seek $800,000 in fund drive for retarded

Illinois Knights of Columbus will hold their 11th annual statewide fund-raising effort on behalf of the mentally retarded young people during the weekend of Oct. 31-Nov. 1.

The Knights have set a target for the two-day drive, about seven percent greater than they raised in last year's campaign.

Robert J. Defenbaugh of Watseka and Gus Sundermeier of Oak Lawn, co-chairmen of the benefit, believe the goal is not overly optimistic since the Knights will profit from the amended Illinois vehicle code which now permits solicitation of funds on state highways within municipalities granting such permission.

Each year the drive receives greater public acceptance, especially when people realize that nearly all the money collected during the two-day drive is returned to the community where it was solicited, helping to underwrite the operating costs of sheltered workshops, special schools, associations and mentally retarded organizations.

In excess of $100,000 has been donated by the Knights to the Illinois Special Olympics, Inc. to help underwrite their summer and winter games. Darrell W. Beck of Deatur, current state deputy of the Illinois Knights, has been active with the Illinois Special Olympics for more than 10 years and serves as their treasurer.

Since the campaign was begun in 1970, gross receipts from the K of C Mentally Retarded program are in excess of $5.30 million.

Under the terms of the Knights' project, 10 percent of the gross collected each year is placed in a K of C State Fund which is used to provide support for major mentally retarded projects.

Handling of the funds is governed by guidelines set up in compliance with the Internal Revenue Service, Illinois' attorney general's office, and the Knights' national headquarters in New Haven.

For several years the Knights sponsored a leadmobile manned by technicians from the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens. More recently the Knights have been donating substantial sums of money to the Illinois Special Olympics, Inc.

The ARC leadmobile was a laboratory on wheels that traveled around the state testing young children free of charge for lead they may have ingested into their systems, particularly for paint chips.

Hundreds of youngsters who might have suffered organic damage or irreversible brain damage from the effects of lead poisoning have been detected by the leadmobile and treated by local physicians and/or hospitals.

The six-figure contribution to Illinois Special Olympics has helped the mentally handicapped participate in outdoor games.

The candy product used in "selling" the program, plus minimal promotional costs of the participating councils, are the only expenses deducted. All the money collected during the two-day drive is placed in a charitable trust. Upon request of the local council money is donated to specified community mentally retarded organizations.

The Knights will be joined by volunteers from several of the community mental retarded organizations, by students and adults interested in the Mentally Retarded project.

MR. AND MRS. SCOTT HILLMER whose wedding took place at St. John Lutheran Church, formerly Sandra Lynn Batey, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Batey, Rural Route Two, Granite City.

Miss Sandra Lynn Batey, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Batey, Rural Route Two, Granite City, and Scott L. Hillmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hillmer, 3287 Willow Ave., were united in marriage in an evening candlelight ceremony on June 21, at St. John Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Samuel Boda performed the double ring ceremony at 6:30.

Wedding selections, "Longer Than," "The Wedding Song," and "If" were sung by Larry Haegy and The Lord's Prayer was by Vicki Dyer, a cousin of the bride. Organist was June Barton.

Arrangements of red roses with white gladioli adorned the altar and burning tapers in candelabra illuminated the sanctuary.

The bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace featuring a high neckline, cameo bodice and bishop sleeves accented with Cluny lace appliques and seed pearls.

Her lace skirt fell softly from a natural waistline into a chapel train enhanced with small ruffles of Cluny lace. She wore a chapel length veil of bridal illusion edged in Brussels lace attached to a Juliet cap adorned with seed pearls and she held a bouquet of red rose buds, gladioli petals, white roses, baby's breath and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Shelley Lansaw, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Annette Hedy, Vicki Dyer, Cindy Mooshogay, Diane Marcus, and Mary Bury chose gowns of blue jersey knit.

The altar dresses were designed with accented pleated skirts and complemented with chiffon capes trimmed in white Chantilly lace.

Each attendant carried a white basket of spring flowers and wore sprigs of lily-of-the-valley in their hair.

Kelly Fredricks was the flower girl. She was dressed in a Chantilly lace frock fashioned with long sleeves and a full skirt. She also carried a basket of spring flowers and wore lily-of-the-valley in her hair.

Michael Sparks served as the ringbearer.

The groom chose Bill Mullen as best man, Chris Hillmer, a brother of the groom, Bob Batey, the bride's brother, Mike Kelly, Brian Hefner and Kenny Bridges were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Ed Holder, Dan Toliver, Mike Dyer and Dan Doyle, the latter two are cousins of the bride.

The bride's mother selected a long pale blue gown of crepe and chiffon and wore a wristlet of pink rosebuds and baby's breath.

Mrs. Hillmer, mother of the groom, was attired in a formal hankiechief tunic style gown with matching stole in ivory embroidered with multi color flowers. Her corsage of roses and baby's breath was attached to a clutch bag.

A catered buffet rehearsal dinner was given by the couple's parents in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hillmer. Following the ceremony a reception was held at Engelbert Hall in Madison.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of North High School, she obtained her bachelor of science degree in nursing from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this spring. She is now employed at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A 1975 graduate of South High School, the groom is attending SIUE where he is majoring in business administration and marketing. He is working at Kroger Store, Granite City.

After a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the newlywed couple are residing in Granite City.

JERRY GARCIA

The Dead

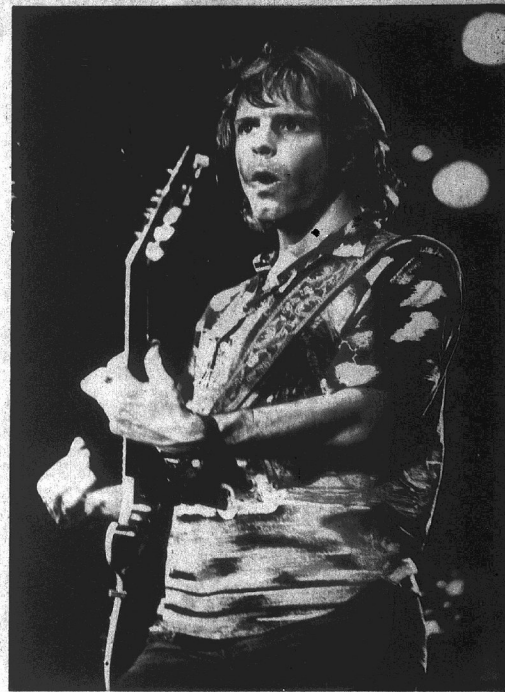

The Grateful Dead performed during the weekend to a crowd of more than 11,000 who stayed until the last note despite the downpour that thoroughly drenched the gathering of loyal Deadheads. From as far away as Boston, Mass., Deadheads came to hear their band. Guitarists Jerry Garcia and Bob Weir, bassist Phil Lesh, Drummers Bill Kreutzmann and Mickey Hart and Brent Mydland on keyboards played many old favorites mixed with new songs for an enjoyable evening. Although the Deadheads were dampened by the rain, their spirit was not and few left the concert which eventually lasted more than three and one-half hours. Garcia and Weir were at their best and the tightness of the band showed on their faces. Kreutzmann and Hart performed a not-to-be-forgotten percussion duet and Mydland displayed his lightning speed on the keyboard. As a bumper sticker declares, "There is nothing like a Grateful Dead concert."

'There is nothing like a Grateful Dead concert'

New renewal cycle for many professional licenses

Under a new law to extend the licensing cycle from one year to two years for most professions licensed by the Illinois Department of Registration and Education, none of the license fees will be raised.

House Bill 2771 also codifies the law setting the fees and deletes the positions of assistant director and superintendent of registration from the department's roster. Neither position is believed needed under the present organization of the department.

"The extension of the license period and the staggering of the renewal cycles under this legislation will provide better consistency to the department's operations by evening out the workload, eliminating the peaks and valleys in the present renewal cycle," Governor James R. Thompson says.

"An added benefit will be the elimination of delays now being experienced in some of the larger professions in license renewals."

The department licenses 22 professions and occupations in Illinois involving about 600,000 Illinois citizens.

Licenses will remain on an annual basis for out-of-state real estate salespersons and for participants and others involved in professional boxing, wrestling or sparring exhibitions.

Two-year licenses will apply to all other licensed by the department, including a wide range of professional and occupational groups such as physicians, dentists, veterinarians, optometrists, psychologists, tree experts, private detectives, nurses, real estate salesmen and brokers, shorthand reporters, funeral directors, rainmakers and others.

The legislation also permits the department to set a fee based on cost to pay for issuance of license wall certificates, issuance of which had been halted for economic reasons.

The bill raises the salary of the department director to $44,000 a year from $37,000.

Gov. Thompson has announced the appointment of Gary L. Clayton, Springfield, as acting director of the Department of Registration and Education.

Clayton, 31, will succeed Temporary Acting Director James Nowlan as head of the agency.

Nowlan has accepted a position as director of the Public Administration Program at the University of Illinois. He has been on a leave of absence from the university since he assumed the acting directorship of the department in March 1980.

From January 1979 to May 1980, Clayton served as deputy director of the Department of Law Enforcement. Since May, he has been chief of statewide investigations for the department of Registration and Education.

Clayton's appointment was effective Friday, Aug. 15. His salary as acting director will be $37,300 a year. Senate approval is not required.

Benefit jamboree Labor Day weekend

The public is invited to attend a benefit jamboree, admission free, planned for the Labor Day weekend at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave., to aid the Shriner's Children Hospital, St. Louis, and the Granite City Senior Citizens.

Sponsoring the event are three Granite City CB's, Rosser T. McGee, Joe Barchestski and Otis Holt, who wanted to aid the two organizations, they said. The men added that 75 per cent of the proceeds will be sent to the Children's Hospital with 25 percent going to the senior citizens group.

Hours of the event will be from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday with a dinner dance on Saturday evening at 6 p.m.

The two-day benefit will include fun filled events, display tables for people from all over the country featuring various crafts, games, jewelry and a variety of old and new items for sale.

Entertainment during the affair will be provided by Shriner clowns, Senior Citizens Kitchen Band, as well as "Chester Quick Band" from Nashville, Tenn.

Plans include the awarding of prizes each hour. Saturday adult grand prizes include a color television, $100 and $50 cash and children's prizes, a 10-speed bicycle and giant stuffed animal.

Sunday the adult prize will be another color television, microwave oven, $200 cash and a base CB radio. Children may again win a juke box stereo and large stuffed animal.

The chairman announce there will be a fee of $5 per couple for attendance at the dinner dance with prizes to be presented during the evening. Advance tickets may be purchased by calling Joyce Kopeck at 457-2344 or Dorothy Holt at 477-7182. There will be no alcoholic beverages allowed on the premises, it was noted.

Cash donations and prizes have been donated by local merchants, the chairman report.

Salaries rise, especially for new engineers

The U.S. economy may be turning downward, but salary offers for 1980 college graduates are going up.

A college Placement Council survey, which includes statistics from University Placement Services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, says employers are offering an average 10 percent more for bachelor's degrees than they were willing to pay in 1979.

Engineering continues to be the most desired major, claiming 63 percent of all job offers and the highest salaries.

A student with a bachelor's degree in petroleum engineering can look forward to a starting salary of $23,844. Chemical engineers will be the next most popular graduates with employers, attracting one-fourth of all job offers and increases of 7 to 10 percent above starting salaries a year ago. Accounting was the preferred field with top offers of $15,516. General business degrees commanded an average $14,616 to start.

Students with bachelor's degrees in the seven sciences got an 11 percent increase in salary but accounted for only eight percent of the volume. Computer science majors dominated the offers and attracted the top salary of $18,696, the survey said.

Students with a combination of a master's degree in business and a technical undergraduate degree edged out chemical engineers, the leader at the graduate level, the last several years, with the highest salary offer of $23,852 of the 19 master's programs surveyed. The engineers slipped to second place with an average $23,364 but still a 9.4 percent increase over 1979.

The lowest offer continued to go to humanities and social science graduates, despite a nine to 11 percent salary increase to $12,855. The humanities graduates as a group also drew the smallest number of job offers, one in every 25.

The survey, based on offers between September 1979 and June 1980, was made by 186 placement offices at 165 colleges and universities.

GC boy, 2, named pageant runnerup

James Raymond Santoyo, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kevin (Ruth) Santoyo, 2151 Benton St., won five trophies in the Tiny Master of Illinois state finals which concluded this week at the Marriott Hotel, Chicago.

The small boy was second runnerup in the contest's overall finals.

James captured a first place trophy in the swimwear segment and a third place in sports wear. He also participated in a third category — the tuxedo segment.

The local youngster brought home another trophy for winning the Tiny Master Photogenic contest and a fifth trophy for being included in the semi-finals.

He is now eligible to participate in the U.S. Tiny Master Pageant, scheduled later this year.

Two other contests in the Illinois pageant were designed for Little Master, involving boys 3 and 4 years old, and Boy Master for 5-year-olds.

James, who celebrated his second birthday on June 12, was sponsored in the contest by Happy Joe's Pizza Parlor, 365 N. Namek Road.

Illinois EPA workers have option for four-day week

Director Michael P. Mauzy has announced that a four-day work week has been implemented on a voluntary basis for selected employees in the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's office at 2200 Churchill Road in Springfield.

A four-day work week pilot program was implemented as a result of supplemental negotiations between IEPA and the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees in December 1979, for a period of six months. The pilot program was successful enough to warrant the agency embarking upon a one year program.

The Environmental Protection Agency is the first state agency or department to make a four-day work week available to employees at all levels in its organization. The program was developed by a joint labor management committee composed of management, clerical and technical personnel.

The four-day work week consists of three 9.5 hour days and one 9.0 hour day, and employees have the option of either Monday or Friday off.

Director Mauzy feels that it is the agency's responsibility to develop new and innovative procedures to conserve the nation's scarce resources.

Currently there are 88 employees taking advantage of this program.

ARRESTED MONDAY

Ralph Clutts Jr., 18, of 1463 Grand Ave., was arrested in the 2200 block of Jefferson Avenue at 4:40 p.m. Monday on a warrant alleging criminal damage to property. He was released at 6:05 p.m. Monday on payment of a $102 cash bond.

Family returns, finds burglary

George Cuevas, 1632 Second St., Madison, returned home from vacation at 1:50 a.m. Tuesday and found a window in a rear door broken and the door open.

All rooms in the upstairs part of the dwelling had been ransacked or searched and items were missing from the livingroom and two bedrooms, the householder said.

A list of stolen items is being compiled.

Vietnam war controversial but not the valor of those who fought it; armament to deter new war is essential

"Voting with their feet." Cubans by the thousands have been providing their own honest evaluation of life under Communism—a mighty low rating—by fleeing to the United States.

The same response—a desire to leave tyranny and live in freedom—has come from millions of Indochina refugees, and there has been ill treatment and death for countless others unable or unwilling to leave Vietnam and Cambodia. This week's unrest in Poland further illustrates the virtual worldwide repudiation of Red dictatorships.

All of which comes to mind in noting the Republican presidential nominee's remarks this week to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He cited the valor and high ideals of Quad-Cityans and other Americans who fought and, in many instances, gave their lives in the now-abandoned effort to help the Vietnamese defend their country against Communism.

Whether or not one fully agrees with candidate Ronald Reagan, and regardless of who one supports in the November election, there is widespread support for his assertion to the VFW that the United States and America's servicemen were trying to do the right thing, not something evil, when they courageously went to Vietnam in the 1960s and early 1970s.

The Wall Street Journal commented yesterday, "What Governor Reagan seems to be saying is that just because you lost doesn't mean you were wrong. But you're not apt to win a fight, even if you're right, unless you're committed and prepared (to win it). Whether he succeeds or not, he has had the nerve to open old wounds in an effort to develop a new philosophical basis and summon the sort of commitment he thinks America will need for the confrontations ahead."

There certainly is room for debate over whether young men should have been asked to patriotically devote "the last full measure of their devotion" to an Asian land war where we were outnumbered and vulnerable to guerrilla tactics.

A logical argument also can be made for avoiding the role of "policemen to the world" and instead limiting U.S. involvement to efforts within our actual power, but also expanding that power from its present inadequate level; both President Jimmy Carter and Gov. Reagan have promised a defense build-up in the 1980s.

But we agree with the VFW that nothing should be said against the valor of our armed forces in all past wars, "conflicts" and "police actions."

The problem of the future is not so much to marshal the participation of "the young people who fight and die in wars"—nuclear exchanges could affect people of all ages, anyway, anyway, anyway—conventional military and naval clashes obsolete—but to make sure that "the old people who declare wars" keep their "powder dry" by the only method that really works:

Let's keep America strong enough to deter any and all aggressors from resorting to a world conflagration that no one could "win."

Madisonians mourn Arthur Moore and William Akin

Quad-Cityans mourn the deaths this week of two individuals long associated with the Madison area, Arthur W. "Cooper" Moore and William M. Akin.

Mr. Moore, 79, who died suddenly yesterday, was this year completing his seventh four-year term on the Madison County Board, where he represented Madison. He was the elected supervisor of Venice Township for 20 years, retiring from that office in 1974. Mr. Moore was a Navy veteran at one time served as a state highway policeman and later as an Illinois secretary of state license investigator.

Mr. Akin, 84, of Alton, who died Sunday, was associated for 61 years with the Laclede Steel Company, which for many years operated a major steel plant in Madison and continues to operate large production facilities in Alton. Past chairman, president and treasurer of Laclede Steel, he is a former vice president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, past chairman of the Washington University board of trustees, and a past director of the Illinois Terminal Railroad.

Welch to oppose Mays

Two developments related to who will be judges in this area occurred this week.

The Illinois Board of Elections has certified Collinsville lawyer Thomas Welch as the official Republican candidate for appellate judge in the Third Circuit of Madison and Bond counties.

The action by the IBE will put Welch's name on the ballot to oppose Democrat Robert Mays of East St.

Louis on the November ballot for an open position on the Fifth District Appellate Court at Mount Vernon, the court which reviews cases from this area.

Action by the IBE was necessary, since the GOP does not have any candidates on the ballot for the vacant seat in Mount Vernon. When Mays was running for the Democratic nomination, Republicans vowed they would provide opposition for him in the general election.

The IBE discussed the issue for 90 minutes in its Chicago office before voting 5-3 to put Welch, the choice of the local GOP, on the November ballot.

Mays is "bedeviled" by the decision, since the state constitution limits the number of judges on the ballot to those selected by a primary election.

In the Third Judicial Circuit, it was announced Monday that none of the four candidates for a vacant appellate judge position received a majority in balloting of the circuit judges, so a runoff election between the two top vote-getters will be required.

They are Thomas E. Hildebrand of Granite City (who practices with Attorney Bill Brandt) and Dennis Brandt of Edwardsville (who is with the law firm of Maley, Hill, Hill and Armstrong of Granite City).

The runoff election between Hildebrand and Brandt will be conducted next week to determine who is to fill the associate judgeship vacant when the Illinois Supreme Court selected Associate Judge A.A. Matosian to fill a vacancy in the circuit judge ranks of the district.

LOOT CONFECTIONERY

Items valued at about $460 were stolen during a burglary at the Parkside Confectionery, 2701 Michigan Ave., between 8:15 p.m. Monday and 8:35 p.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by breaking a window and crawling through it. Taken were about 50 cartons of cigarettes, $20 worth of candy, 90 bottles of soft drinks and a portable television set.

Two hurt in Rt. 3 crash

Michael Byington, 25, of 2109 Clark Ave., suffered multiple injuries, including head injuries, in a two-car accident on Route 3 (Old Route 151) at West Pontoon Road at 2:50 p.m. Tuesday and he was admitted to the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Medical Center following the crash.

Police alleged Byington's eastbound on West Pontoon Road, violated the stop sign and collided with the southbound auto of John Randall, 57, St. Louis. Randall estimated he was driving about 50 miles-per-hour at the time.

After impact, Randall's auto entered the median, knocked down two road signs and skidded about 22 feet before coming to a stop. Both drivers were taken by a Granite City ambulance to the medical center, where Randall was released after treatment.

Police issued Byington a ticket alleging failure to yield the right-of-way at the intersection.

INJURED DRIVER, Michael Byington of Granite City is lifted aboard a Granite City Fire Department ambulance for transportation to St. Elizabeth Medical Center following a two-car crash at Route 3 and West Pontoon Road at 2:50 p.m. Tuesday. Byington's auto is in the right background. He was admitted to the hospital's intensive care unit.

today the City of Granite City has delivered to the district census office in Belleville the first forms showing the city government's housing and population counts, listing 57 homes and 184 people missed in four of the 40 districts. He urged continued public cooperation in providing city data collectors with such census information, which will be kept confidential.

The rating on National Steel Corp. senior debt has been reduced to A- from A+, and on Granite City Steel's convertible debentures due 1994 to BB- from BB. Standard & Poor said. The report was based on increases in National Steel's debt, occasioned by heavy capital expenditures including major investment in a California savings and loan company, and depression-reduced operating results, further dilutes the company's debt protective ratios and promises to slow the recovery in those ratios while earnings again improve.

The third burglary, which occurred between 1 and 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, was at Pantera's. Pizzeria, 1535 Johnson Road, where five coin-operated amusement machines were forced open and about $30 in quarters, as well as the change boxes, were taken. It is suspected someone may have hidden inside at closing time, since a front door appeared to have been unlocked from the inside.

FIREARM CHARGE
Robert Lane, of Victoria Drive, was charged with unlawful use of a 38 caliber handgun and lack of a firearm owner identification card after sheriff deputies were called to the 2300 block of Miracle Avenue early this week.

Charge driver in Wyoming tragedy

Francisco Acuna, 23, Rock Springs, Wyo., one of the drivers involved in the three-vehicle accident in Wyoming which resulted in the death of 16-year-old Lisa White of Granite City and a Texas man Aug. 11, has been charged with two counts of vehicular homicide, authorities said this morning.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday for Miss White. Details may be found in today's obituary column.

Her father, Grady White, 51, remains in critical condition, in a coma, at Utah Medical Center in Salt Lake City, but family members reported he is showing some signs of improvement. Lisa's twin sister, Lori, is improving rapidly at the Utah Medical Center, and another sister, Leslie, 12, is in the Children's Primary Hospital in Salt Lake City, preparing to return to Granite City.

The White's van was northbound on Highway 89, toward Yellowstone National Park when the fatal accident occurred. Authorities said Acuna's southbound auto was speeding when it struck the rear of a pickup truck and then crossed the center line, colliding head-on with the van, driven by Lisa White. She was killed instantly.

Also killed was Kevin Jones, 18, Kingwood, Tex., a passenger in the pickup truck, authorities said.

Granite City firefighters' Local 23 has donated $1,500 and the city's emergency medical technicians from the ambulance service have donated $1,000 to be used to bring Leslie White home. She is in a full body cast, due to numerous fractures, so the firefighters and EMTs are sending her older sister, Linda, to Salt Lake City to accompany Leslie on the flight home.

Linda, 18, was working at Yellowstone National Park during the summer and the Whites were on their way to pick her up when the accident occurred. Another sister, Rodie White, 25, of Granite City, was at home in Granite City when the accident occurred. She went to Salt Lake City after learning of the accident.

Arrest in rape case

David L. Ely, 27, of the 700 block of Old Alton Road, has been charged with rape and with taking indecent liberties with a minor in connection with the alleged rape of a 15-year-old Mitchell girl under the Interstate 270 overpass at Old Alton Road early Sunday.

Ely was arrested at his home Wednesday by Madison County sheriff's deputies.

According to official reports, the victim was walking near Carolina Boulevard when a man on a bicycle, who had tattoos, stopped and forced the girl, at knifepoint, to ride on the bicycle's handlebars.

He took her to the overpass where the rape allegedly occurred, deputies said. After the rape, she was able to escape by running toward a nearby house. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was released.

Ely was being held in the Madison County Jail, pending a court appearance.

Grid playoffs expand to six

Special to the Press-Record

BLOOMINGTON — The annual scramble for berths in the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) Football Playoff Series will take on added flavor when season opening competition by a record-setting 588 eligible schools gets under way the weekend of Sept. 5-7.

The season will be for 16 more berths than ever before in the seven-year history of the playoffs. During the first six years of the statewide series competition was conducted in five classes, with assignment to classes based upon the average conference enrollment. Preliminary round sites were predetermined in each class, too. This year, assignment to classes will be based upon the actual enrollment of each of the schools qualifying for the playoffs. No sites other than for the state championship games will be determined in advance. The change in format is expected to spice up the nine-week regular season where each school will be able to determine its own fate on the gridiron, and speculate about potential foes.

The playoffs in each of the six classes will begin on Wednesday following the ninth week of the season with preliminary round games at 48 sites. Preliminary round games will start between 1:30 and 7:30 with the time to be selected by the host school except that if a team must travel over 200 miles round trip for the game it cannot start after 6:30 p.m. Quarterfinal Round games are scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 3, and all will begin at 1 p.m. Survivors advance to the semifinal round scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 15 with a 1 p.m. kickoff.

All six title games will be played the weekend of Nov. 21-22 (weekend before Thanksgiving) at the artificial turf of Hancock Stadium on the campus of Illinois State University, Normal. There will be three games each day. Each game will be a session and the kickoffs are scheduled as follows: Friday—Class 1A at 11:15 a.m. and Class 2A at 3:15 p.m., and Class 3A at 7:15 p.m. Saturday—Class 4A at 11:15 a.m., Class 5A at 3:15 p.m., and Class 6A at 7:15 p.m.

Season tickets will be sold in advance at a reduced price of $15. Single game tickets will be sold only on the day of each game at Hancock Stadium at a price of $3.

The pairings are scheduled to be made in the IHSA Office on Saturday, Nov. 1. Pairings will be made on the basis of geography of the competing teams, and hosts for the Preliminary Round games will be determined at that time.

Champions from each of the 78 eligible conferences earn automatic berths into the playoffs. Independents with season winning percentages of 80 or better, and then conference co-champions not selected by their conference and/or conference runners-up, each with season winning percentages of 80 or better are to be considered for the 18 "at large" berths, which will be filled from among all schools participating in the 1980 series. In the event there are more teams with season winning percentages of 80 or better than there are "at large" berths available, the traditional IHSA point system will be used to determine qualifiers.

Once all 98 qualifiers have been selected according to the Football Playoff Terms and Conditions, they will be ranked in order according to their actual 1980 school year enrollments. The smallest 16 schools will be assigned to Class 1A, the next smallest to Class 2A, etc., until the largest 16 remain to be assigned to Class 6A. The enrollment ranges, it must be remembered, will fluctuate each year depending on the teams qualifying for the current series.

The IHSA Office will pair the teams in each class on the traditional geographic principle, but beginning this year the host schools for the preliminary round games will not be determined until the pairings are made.

Independent and other "At Large" selections may be responsible to host a preliminary round game, where they had been ineligible to do so in the six previous years of the playoffs.

Beginning July 1, 1981 (for the 1981 series), conferences must have a minimum of six (6) Illinois football playing schools in order to be eligible to receive an automatic berth in the playoffs. Previously, the minimum limit of schools was four.

Five conference games must be played by each conference team. Champions of each eligible conference are automatic qualifiers into the playoffs. Teams in a conference which does not meet the criteria will be considered independents.

In the event a regular-season game is not played because one of the teams was on strike and is not scheduled and played in time, according to the Terms and Conditions procedure, it will count as a forfeit loss on the record of the team from the school on strike. This is a return to the criteria in the point system used two seasons ago. If both schools go on strike and scheduled game is not rescheduled and played in time according to the Terms and Conditions procedure, it will be considered no game for both schools in the point system. The point system is used to determine the "At Large" qualifiers.

There will be no change in the manner in which "At Large" teams are selected over the previous year. In fact, the five-class enrollment figures used in 1979 will be the ones used in step No. 5 of the selection procedure. If step No. 5 is required to break a tie in points, the actual 1980 enrollments of all schools (those tied for the berth and the opponents of those teams tied for the berth) will be figured to determine whether a school played up or down in classification.

The "value" for classification purposes in this step only of a school's enrollment will break down as follows: Class 1A—0 to 295, Class 2A—296 to 547, Class 3A—548 to 1158, Class 4A—1159 to 2029, Class 5A—2030 and above.

Even though a six-class format will be used for the 1980 playoffs, for purposes of the tie-in in points for an "At Large" berth in Step No. 5 of the Selection Procedure a five-class set of enrollment figures will be used.

South has depth again

GRANITE CITY — Gone from Granite City South's cross country team is all-area distance man Dave Houston. He's graduated and left Granite City to run for Eastern Illinois University's Panthers. But that's not necessarily good news for South's opponents this fall.

South, which won the initial Gateway East Conference meet last fall, looks to have a good shot at repeating. The reason is one word: Depth.

"That's what won it for us last year," said South head coach Dick Harmon. "Houston was a good runner, but he's not enough. You've got to have those people picking up the second, third and fourth if you're going to do good as a team."

And that's what Harmon has coming back this season. Depth.

"They didn't come back in too good a shape this season," said Harmon. "Most of them (the team) really don't start running until I send them a letter about practice the middle of July."

The time is 8:05 a.m. The hot mid-August sun hasn't yet begun its assault on Granite City. And there they are. About 20 kids clad only in running shorts, tee-shirts and shoes are gathered around a middle-aged man wearing Bermuda shorts, a knit shirt, coaching shoes and a floppy hat. And a stopwatch. "The kids really respect Coach Harmon," said assistant coach Charlotte Charbonnier. "He's an easy-going person, but he knows what he's talking about."

Charbonnier is not a token female coach. "She's not here just for the girls we have on a team," said Harmon. "She's a good assistant. She works good with the girls and the boys."

"You know, in any sport you need at least two coaches, even in cross country. If a runner gets hurt, who's supposed to coach the team while he's looked after?"

As far as this season is concerned, Harmon is optimistic. "It should be us and (Granite City) North," said Harmon. "Edwardsville could be up there in the conference, but for some reason they've been having trouble getting people out."

Besides Houston, several other key runners were lost from last

Steelers return most regulars in Gateway chase

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North cross country coach Pete Robinson is a crusader for his sport. The short, dark-haired man with the sunken eyes is a fighter.

"These kids work hard," he said of his Steeler team. "But the glamor isn't there. Yet, but it's coming. I'm not putting down soccer, but I'm almost sure the state cross country meet outdraws the state soccer finals."

That's the kind of coach Robinson is. He gives total dedication to his sport. But especially his team.

His team this season could be one of the best in the area. "We might just surprise some people this year," Robinson said. "We've got most of the regulars back from last season." Last season saw the Steelers fight Granite City South to the wire for the Gateway East Conference championship before bowing to the Warriors. The conference meet was a battle between South's top runner, Dave Houston, and North's Bruce DeRuntz.

DeRuntz is back. Houston isn't.

"I'd say that Bruce is going to be one of the top runners in this area this season," said Robinson. "He is really starting to look good and come around. He worked very hard over the summer."

That's what makes the difference between a good cross country runner and a great one. Hard work. "That's what made (Mike) Baker great," said Robinson. "He put in many long hours during the summers and after school during the off-season."

Baker will be a junior this fall at Illinois State University. The Granite North graduate is one of the top runners at ISU.

An annual affair for members of the North cross country team is a camp-out — work-out each summer at Dixon Springs in Southern Illinois. "We camp out and just run the hills all day," said Robinson. "It's a good break for the kids, makes them more aware of others on the team and gives them some good workouts."

This summer, we went down there with O'Fallon's team. That gave us some pretty tough competition to work out against."

O'Fallon is one of the teams

British down Quincy Hawks

EDWARDSVILLE — The Universities Athletic Union of Britain remained unbeaten here last night when it defeated Quincy College 2-1 in the Nike-SIU Edwardsville Soccer Tournament at Cougars' Field. In the evening's opening game, the British College Select Team tied the University of Missouri-St. Louis 2-2. It was the second straight tie for the British Selects.

In the Quincy game with UAB, the British took a 2-0 lead into halftime and staved off the Quincy comeback attempt.

Quincy's lone goal was scored by forward Dan Meagher in the second half when he streaked in on the UAB goal and poked the ball under sprawling goalie David Maltershead. It came at the 80-40 mark.

In the UMSL-Select Team game, the British had all the scoring in the first half, while UMSL's Rivermen took control in the second.

UMSL's Jerry DeRousse got the first goal of the second half at the 78-20 mark when he got a pass from the teammate Dan Muesenfechter.

Muesenfechter got his chance at the goal just three minutes later when he scored the tying tally. He put in a rebound at the 81-00 minute mark.

SIU-Edwardsville's defending national champion Cougars did not play last night.

Saturday (Aug. 23), the journey will conclude with another duo of games as the host SIUE Cougars battle it out with Universities Athletic Union of Britain in the 8 p.m. contest and the Hawks of Quincy College open the session at 6 p.m.

with a clash with British Colleges Select.

In first round action last Friday, the Cougars battled British Colleges Select to a hard-fought 1-1 standoff after jumping out to a one-point lead on a goal racked up by their new freshman striker, Dan O'Keefe.

The Cougars, who will open their regular season with a three-game invasion of the East Coast, will play seven games before the University's fall quarter begins Sept. 22.

Panther linebackers to be solid in 1980

CHARLESTON — Eastern Illinois University's linebacking corps is solid. That's with a capital S, which also could stand for superb.

Coach Jeff Gardner, who switches to defense after two years assisting with the offensive line, has four main players, Tom Murray (Arlington Heights), Alonzo Lee (Washington, D.C. Dunbar), Ira Jefferson (Mokena) and Bill Mines (Washington, D.C. Watson), vying for three spots. Murray, a 6-2, 220 junior, will definitely start at one of the outside linebacker spots, according to Gardner. "Tom performs best at strong side linebacker."

"He rarely is in bad position to get blocked. His height is an advantage cause he can read the tight end and key through to the backfield."

Although out two years ago with a broken leg, Murray came back to reclaim a starting slot last season and is stronger than ever. "He can bench 375 and ham!" missed a practice since he came back. He needs to work on speed... we wanted him to knock a 4.9 down to 4.7 by the time he reported this fall."

Murray led the team with four pass interceptions, knocked down seven men, had 67 tackles, a quarterback sack and one fumble recovery.

Jefferson, a 5-9, 225 junior who missed most of last year with a knee injury, is "our best weakside linebacker. He has a tremendous amount of speed... 4.6 consistently."

"That is what is needed to play the weakside... be able to break on any floods in the flat as well as provide run support against the option."

"Ira can bench 415 so with this strength and speed his height is not a disadvantage," Gardner said.

The real battle is at middle linebacker between the veteran Lee, 5-11, 225 senior who is also coming off a partial season due to injury, and Mines, a 6-1, 215 sophomore, who earned Second Team All-Conference honors last year.

Head Coach Darrell Mudra inferred to the media at last week's Mid-Continent Conference Kickoff Luncheon that Mines might have a rough time starting, and Gardner said at the end of spring that he was only slightly ahead.

Mines, a sleeper when he arrived last fall, quickly developed when Lee was slowed by the injury. He finished with 102 tackles and earned MCC Player of the Week honors in the next to last game at Illinois State.

"Bill is too good to sit the bench so he'll definitely play. He has outstanding speed and great mobility for a middle linebacker," Gardner explained.

"He wasn't one of the strongest players last fall but has improved his bench press by 140 pounds. A middle linebacker also has to know the game plan well, and Bill's capable of calling defenses. He's better against the run than pass so he's got some things to work on this fall."

Aerobic dance to be offered Sportshorts

GRANITE CITY — The Tri-City Area YMCA has announced that they will offer two introductory, four-week sessions of Fitness Fantasia (aerobic dance) beginning in September. The morning class will begin Sept. 3 and will meet on Monday and Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. The evening class will begin Sept. 9 and will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m.

"Fitness Fantasia" is a fun, exciting way to achieve total fitness," said the YMCA Program Director.

Tueth said that all movements were carefully selected to offer a total fitness program which includes completely choreographed exercise routines to music, tips on how to lose fat and stay trim, and how to determine individual training zones for fitness.

The cost for this short session will be $10.00 for YMCA members and $15 for non-members. Registration fees must be paid one week prior to the beginning of the class, and enrollment is limited.

Tueth added that an eight week session of all new routines will begin Oct. 6. For more information, call Tueth at 876-7200.

FAST-PITCH TOURNAMENT
GRANITE CITY — The annual Granite City Fast-Pitch Softball Tournament will be held Sept. 8 through Sept. 13 at several sites in Granite City.

Admission charged

GRANITE CITY — For the first time ever, admission will be charged at all Granite City North and Granite City South home soccer games this fall. The admission fees will be $2 for adults and $1 for students. Pre-school children will be admitted free when accompanied by parents.

High school activity tickets will be honored at respective high schools for their games only, with the exception of North vs. South games, at which both schools' activity tickets will be honored. The change in admission policy became possible when a new fence was installed at the North soccer field. Because of TESA rules, a field must be fenced in before admission can be charged. Even though Granite South's field is enclosed, the Board of Education felt it would be unfair to charge admission at one school, while not being able to do so at the other.

Softball team to travel

ST. LOUIS — The Budweiser slow pitch softball team, winners of last weekend's Western Regional of the Major Industrial Mid-America Slow Pitch Softball Tournament, is on its way to the national tournament for the fifth time in the last seven years.

Led by the 13-for-15 performance at the plate by Gary Schepeter, the Budweiser team took four straight victories against teams from Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska at the Western Regional Tournament at the Harrowood Sports Complex southwest of St. Louis, advancing to the nationals Aug. 30, through Sept. 1 in Lubbock, Tex.

Under Manager Ameal Nassif, Budweiser captured the Anheuser-Busch In-house league with a perfect 10-0 record and grabbed three tournament titles — Johnny Mac's, Ohio lumber and living and learning (for underprivileged children) — at the Pevely (Mo.) sports complex in 1980.

The Budweiser team already has competed in the national tournament in Charlotte, N.C., in 1974; Seckonk, Mass., in 1976; Birmingham, Ala., in 1977; and Jacksonville, Fla., in 1979.

COUGAR SOCCER team starts pre-season drills. Tim Guelker, sweepback on this year's Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer squad, takes part in the Cougars' opening workout Friday. Guelker, who was credited with all three assists as the Cougars defeated Clemson U., 3-2 last December in Tampa, Fla., to win the national NCAA Division I (large schools) championship, has been moved back from the midfield and forward duties of the past three years. He's a senior.

season's squad. "I think we can replace them," said Harmon. "Of course, you can't replace a runner the caliber of Houston right away. But he was hurt a lot of last season and we still won't meet."

"We might not have the one outstanding runner who'll win the race, but we'll have enough in the pack right behind to win some meets."

"There'll be a lot of teams shooting for us this season in the conference," Harmon said. "But it should boil down to us and North. Again."

Harmon pointed to senior Jeff Taylor as the team leader. "He's been improving year by year since he was a freshman," he said. "He's sort of the one the rest of the team would look up to."

The turning point of the season, according to Harmon will come around the first of October in the Waterloo Invitational. "That's about the time we should turn the corner and start working harder for the conference meet and the districts," he said. "We'll start working them harder in practice. The enthusiasm should be better by then. And the weather will be a little cooler."

What makes a teenager want to put himself through such torture? There are no fans at the meets to speak of. There is no cheering section. No cheerleaders. No influence as to who runs in what races and who doesn't. Everyone gets a chance. It's completely up to the runner.

Many times, an athletic matures over the course of a summer or season and surprises the coaching staff with his improvements.

"We've got some guys who can really come on this year if they want to," said Robinson. "It'll be up to them, though."

to do it.

"Plus, they never sit the bench. Everyone races. The coach has no influence as to who runs in what races and who doesn't. Everyone gets a chance. It's completely up to the runner."

Robinson thinks will be tough this fall. "Of course, (Granite City) South will still be good and Alton could have a very good season."

Robinson is pleased with the amount of running out in over the past summer by members of his team. "They came in in better shape than usual," he said. "That says something for their dedication."

What does Robinson think makes a high school kid want to become a cross country runner? "They have a chance to excel at a sport and don't have to be super big or a man-eater."

'BO' BEUCKMAN

1823 VANDALIA
COLLINSVILLE, ILL.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM FRED "BO" BEUCKMAN

FELLOW CITIZENS:

I have served the Metro-East area as a Ford dealer for the past decade. I have savored the good years and survived the bad years as prompted by the movements of our national economy through that period. I have worked hard to accomplish that American dream of succeeding in business. As many others did in this business, I became actively involved in the civic affairs of this community, placing special emphasis on doing something to better the lives of our senior citizens. I have proudly employed and thereby have been privileged to provide a livelihood for approximately 100 of your neighbors. Taxes generated by our operation have benefitted our local, state and federal government.

I have never before publicly sounded off on a national issue, having only appealed to you previously through the direct advertising of our Ford product. However, disturbing events are now happening in this industry that compel me to speak out. I am alarmed at the destructive impact of these events on our nation and the resulting detrimental effect on the standard of living of our people.

We are all aware of the flood of failures that have hit this country the past year with respect to automobile agencies that sell vehicles made in this country. I remind you that 10,000 auto workers in Missouri have lost their jobs and joined the growing ranks of the unemployed. In Illinois, consider the large number of dealerships that have been forced to close in the past year, contributing to an overall 40 percent reduction in this work force. This reduction has been forced on our own agency and many others in our Metro-East neighborhood.

These blows to the American auto worker have resulted from the curtailment of our production, triggered by heavy marketing losses to the foreign car makers.

I speak out not for the personal gain of Bo Beuckman, nor for the business benefit of the Beuckman Ford Agency.

I address you as a fellow American, who realizes that we must wake up to that which is happening.

Isn't it time that we, as Americans, ask ourselves why we self-inflict these blows on our economy?

Isn't it time that we revive our faith in our own national products?

Isn't it time that we reaffirm our confidence in the ability of the American auto worker to produce a better vehicle than our foreign competitors?

We Americans consider ourselves to be patriotic —
We pledge allegiance to our country —
We, as Americans, rally 'round our flag —
We love our country — right or wrong —
We proclaim a spirit of nationalism —

Think about it. We're in the thick of an economic battle. At stake in this struggle, simply put, is the survival of domestic jobs in our car industry.

What can you do to aid our country?
Support the American car.

Think American.
Buy American.

Thank you,

Bo Beuckman

Biofeedback is helping control blood pressure

(American Psychological Association)

Many scientists maintain that we have no control over our routine bodily functions, such as heartbeat or blood pressure.

They say these involuntary, or autonomic responses, are not controllable or trainable. However, the pioneering experiments of behavioral psychologist Neal Miller and others suggested that, with appropriate "biofeedback," voluntary control of involuntary responses was indeed possible.

"Biofeedback" is a technique that uses modern technological methods of measuring and reporting on specific bodily functions in order to train individuals to gain greater control over those functions.

Psychologist Bernard Brucker is demonstrating that we can control blood pressure by using biofeedback with the physically disabled. His research has focused on helping patients suffering from severe spinal cord injury to learn blood pressure control.

His experiments began when a patient with a spinal cord injury from a gunshot wound approached Brucker and his colleague, Dr. Ince. As a result of his injury, the patient was suffering from "postural hypotension," which caused him to faint within moments of standing up.

When most of us are at rest in a horizontal position, gravity equalizes the flow of blood throughout the body; when we rise, the brain restores our sense of balance by telling the blood vessels in our extremities to constrict. But when the spine has been severed, that message cannot cross the spinal break, causing a drastic drop in blood pressure which makes spinal patients faint.

Although initially skeptical of the use of biofeedback for treatment, the psychologists designed an experiment using two forms of biofeedback.

Working with their subject for 11 one-hour sessions, four days a week, they read his blood pressure every 60 seconds and told him the reading. The patient's task during these sessions was to try to change his blood pressure in response to the readings.

The results of the experiment were dramatic and startling. Not only did the patient learn to control his blood pressure, he also became aware enough to independently perceive changes in his own pressure, which enabled him to exercise some control over his blood pressure outside the laboratory.

Subsequent experiments with other spinal cord injury patients corroborated the findings of Brucker's initial experiment.

Patients were able to voluntarily control their blood pressure for as long as six hours without suffering from hypotension. Moreover, during their daily routines, the patients were able to maintain pressure for long periods, and without any particularly concentrated mental effort.

Brucker calls biofeedback a "new and exciting technique that has great potential clinical benefit in rehabilitation." He is quick to point-out, however, that biofeedback techniques should not be used indiscriminately, and are often most beneficial when used in conjunction with physical and occupational therapy.

He is currently involved in researching how people learn through biofeedback, discovering additional ways to adapt his methods to help individuals with other kinds of disabilities.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Request For
Design Approval
F.A.I. 255 EXTENSION
F.A.I. 155-70
north to F.A.I. 270
Madison County

Notice is hereby given to all interested persons that approval of the design for the extension of F.A.I. 255 from Interstate 55-70 west of Collinsville to Interstate 270 southwest of Edwardsville in Madison County has been requested from the Federal Highway Administration. The project involves the construction of 5.5 miles of a fully controlled access highway on new alignment. The facility will consist of two 36-foot roadways separated by a 64-foot earth median. Based upon analysis of the two alternate alignments as presented at the design public hearing held on August 23, 1979 at Southern Illinois University, alternate F-F (western alignment) has been selected and recommended to FHWA. The proposed SHU Connector has been deleted in favor of reconstruction of the ramps in the west quadrants of the existing Route 157-1270 interchange. An additional lane will be added to both the east and westbound roadways of I-270 on the median side from Illinois Route 111 to Illinois Route 157 to handle the expected increase in traffic. The project will also include the necessary grading, paving, bridges and other structures, lighting, signing, and landscaping required to complete the above facility.

Grade-separated interchanges will be provided at County Highway 35 (Collinsville-Granite City Road), Illinois Route 155, and I-270. A grade-separation structure will carry Black Lane over I-255 and the existing bridge over I-270 at Sand Road will remain. Major stream crossings will be provided over Schoolhouse Branch and Cahokia Canal.

Construction of the facility will require the acquisition of approximately 480 acres of right-of-way and the displacement of 5 residences and one business. Black Lane north of C.H. 35 would be closed at the west interchange ramps and the existing frontage road south of I-270 would also be closed with access maintained via Chain of Rocks Road and Sand Road. Service drives and frontage roads will be constructed where necessary to provide access to severed properties.

Maps, sketches, and other pertinent information on the design of this improvement are available for public inspection at the District 8 Planning Office, 4020 West Main Street, Belleville, Illinois. Office hours are 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, except State holidays. The telephone number is 397-9530.
